

British Soldier Killed In Cyprus

Protest Anti-Red Order

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The British government's outlawing of the Communist party on Cyprus provoked a new wave of violence in this crown colony Wednesday. A British soldier was killed and five others were wounded.

Sporadic strikes swept the island in protest against the anti-Red order. Archbishop Makarios denounced the move against Cypriot Communists.

The archbishop, leader of the Enosis (union with Greece) movement said:

"We unreservedly denounce the action of the British government, irrespective of the fundamental differences which separate us from those a g a i n s t whom the government action is aimed. We believe an ideology can be fought only by another and better ideology and not by force."

Enosis demands immediate self-determination for Cyprus, meaning freedom to become a part of Greece, but the British have promised only greater self-government and eventual self-determination without setting any date.

The Communists' apparent determination to "prolong dissension and turbulence" on the island — headquarters for British forces in the Middle East — was given as the reason for the order outlawing them.

Pro-Greek Cypriots are campaigning to drive the British out with constant sabotage, riots, hit-and-run bombings and sniping. From its beginning Enosis has had strong Communist support.

The soldier was shot Wednesday in Nicosia, where two men fired on him and another soldier as they patrolled a street. The second soldier was wounded.

A British civilian shot and wounded one of the attackers in the leg.

Earlier Wednesday, three other British soldiers were injured by a bomb hurled from the window of a Limassol school. In Famagusta, another bomb injured a fifth soldier and damaged two cars.

The ban on the 20,000-strong Communist party (Akei) announced by Gov. Sir John Harding was followed immediately by a military raid on the organization's Nicosia headquarters.

British troops carried out the raid and 135 people, including the mayors of two big towns and the entire Akei Central Committee, were reported under arrest.

Defying emergency regulations banning political strikes, building workers downed tools in Nicosia. So did 1,000 workers at the Dhekelia military cantonment.

Walters refused to serve hotel guests and newspaper printing staffs met to decide whether to strike.

Cold Air Blankets Central States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold air swept across the nation's mid-section Wednesday, dropping temperatures more than 30 degrees in a few hours in the Southern Plains.

The temperature at Lubbock, Tex., plummeted from a morning high of 65 to 33 shortly after noon. At Minneapolis it went from 28 to 8.

The cold air advanced southwestward over the Ohio Valley. It was accompanied by strong winds over the upper Mississippi Valley and Missouri Valley.

A band of light snow extended from southwestern Missouri northeastward into Western New York. Snowfall of about an inch was reported over parts of Illinois.

Coldest spot in the nation was Minot, N.D., where a -1 was recorded.

REPORT MAU MAU TERRORISM NEAR END

LONDON (AP)—Victory is near for Britain a government spokesman said Wednesday in a three-year campaign to stamp out anti-white Mau Mau terrorism in the African colony of Kenya.

Colonial Secretary Alan T. Lennox-Boyd told the House of Commons:

"The terrorist gangs have been broken up in small groups and there is now no effective leadership."

"Surrenders are continuing. . . I think the end is coming to the fighting because of the mastery secured by the security forces and the mass of the people of Kenya."

Gaitskell Succeeds Attlee As Leader Of Laborites

LONDON (AP)—Hugh Gaitskell, a moderate Socialist with pro-American views, Wednesday night won the leadership of Britain's Labor party. He thus became chief of opposition to the Eden Conservative party government and top candidate for prime minister in any future Labor government.

Labor members of Parliament, voting on a party successor to ex-Prime Minister Clement Attlee, gave the fast-rising 49-year-old Gaitskell a clear majority. He received 157 of 267 ballots cast in a three-way race.

The Laborites rejected Aneurin Bevan, left-wing leader often critical of American foreign policy, and Herbert Morrison, faithful party wheelhorse who had served as Attlee's deputy for a decade. Bevan received 70 votes and Morrison only 40.

Morrison, at 67, and Bevan at 58, probably are too old now to have much chance to gain their party's top prize.

Attlee served as leader for 20 years before he stepped down seven days ago and accepted an earldom.

President Starts Slowdown Doctors Have Prescribed

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower started Wednesday the slow-down his doctors have prescribed. And there wasn't any yes or no as to whether he has called Gov. Averell Harriman of New York a "Park Avenue Truman."

One official presidential action on a light day was signing statements urging the American people to renew their devotion to "the most precious of liberties" guaranteed by the Bill of Rights and to "defend them against all forms of attack."

Bill of Rights Day will be observed Thursday. It commemorates the adoption of the first 10 amendments to the Constitution which set forth such rights as freedom of speech, press and religion, and the rights to privacy and fair trial.

There was nothing at all on the President's schedule Wednesday—no official callers or any social visitors.

"This," said press secretary James C. Hagerty, "is going to be a very quiet day."

Then for the next few minutes Hagerty was busy amiably parrying questions as to whether the chief executive has termed Gov. Harriman a "Park Avenue Truman."

Forester Finds Wife Strangled In Their Home

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The wife of the Lincoln forester was strangled Wednesday in the young couple's secluded home in a midtown city park.

Darrell F. Parker said he found the partly clad body of his 22-year-old wife on a bed when he returned home about 12:30 p.m.

A clothesline was knotted about her neck, a rag stuffed in her mouth and her hands tied behind her back. She was wearing a sweat shirt, which had been torn, and her blue jeans were found nearby.

Lancaster County Atty. Elmer Scheele ordered an immediate autopsy.

The small white frame house is about 150 yards from a main entrance of Antelope Park. It is about 250 yards from the nearest house.

Two workmen, who had been working at a nearby residence for several days, reported seeing a strange car parked near the home about 7:40 a.m. a short time after Parker had gone to work.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp said there was no sign of a forced entry.

Mrs. Parker worked as a dietitian at a Lincoln flour mill. She had not reported for work there Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker were married in March 1954, while both were students at Iowa State College in Ames. She was graduated last June, a year after her husband's graduation.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison, Des Moines. Morrison is a music teacher.

Parker is the son of Lynn Parker Henderson, Iowa farmer.

The slaying was the third in eastern Nebraska in 10 days. In Omaha, 60 miles northeast, a cab driver and a university coed were fatally shot.

The Parkers were childless.

Parker said he left the house at 7:15 a.m. He returned shortly after noon for his lunch. He found the body and called police to report his wife had been strangled.

Secretary Of State Carpentier To Run For Reelection

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said Wednesday he is a candidate for reelection.

The announcement, prepared for delivery to a party for employees of his office, had been expected. Primary opposition to the candidacy of Carpentier, 59, a Republican, may come from State Treasurer Warren Wright.

Supporters of Wright, who cannot succeed himself, said Wednesday they are circulating nominating petitions which would permit him to file either for secretary of state or governor, depending on the response of petitioners.

Gov. Stratton is expected to announce Jan. 6 his intention to seek reelection, the date he has set for disclosure of his political plans.

Carpentier cited his office's record in administering the drivers license and securities laws, in issuing license plates and in maintaining the Capitol.

He said the drivers license law "has been hailed by experts as the best in the country. We have administered that law honestly, efficiently and forcefully. We have saved lives on our highways. We small continue to do so."

Carpentier, a former state senator and one-time mayor of East Moline, was elected the first Republican secretary of state in 20 years in 1952. He defeated Democrat Edward J. Barrett in one of the closest election contests in Illinois history.

All Four Dionne Sisters In Hospital, Two As Patients

MONTREAL (AP)—The four surviving Dionne quintuplets are together in a suburban hospital, two of them as patients.

"All are in a happy mood," Dr. G. Cousineau said Wednesday. He G. Cousineau said Wednesday he is medical director at Hospital Notre Dame de l'Esperance in Villa St. Laurent.

The hospital refused to discuss the condition of the two patients except to say they are suffering from a nervous condition and need privacy and rest.

Marie left a Quebec city convent where she had been training as a postulant on Nov. 26 for treatment in the hospital, where her sisters, Yvonne and Cecile, were taking nurses' training. Annette, who had been studying at a school in Nicolet, Que., entered the hospital Dec. 3 for an examination. The quint is 21.

The fifth quintuplet, Emilie, died last year following an epileptic seizure at a Ste. Agathe, Que., rest home.

Benson Tells Plan To Speed Giving Surpluses To Needy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson Wednesday announced a stepped up program of distributing surplus U. S. farm products to the needy at home and abroad.

He didn't say how much food would be involved but one source estimated that about 800 million additional pounds from government stocks will be distributed during 1956.

This amount, though considerable, is a drop in the bucket compared to the government surplus foods. These stocks include about 60 billion pounds of wheat, 45 billion pounds of corn, plus huge amounts of other commodities.

Benson said some surplus wheat, corn, rice and dry beans will be made available immediately to American charitable agencies for foreign relief, and to eligible domestic outlets. Wheat and corn are being added to the commodities being made available for school lunches and for other purposes in this country.

He made the announcement at a ceremony at which he was surrounded by representatives of church and private relief organizations.

Besides paying for the food, the government will stand the cost of packaging, handling and transporting to shipside, and some of the shipping charges will be advanced to welfare agencies.

Visit Of Top Russians To India Strengthens Communists' Position

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Russia's roving salesmen went back across the Soviet borders Wednesday, leaving behind them the question of just how far they have been able to pull India toward the Communist camp.

The return of Soviet Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin to Russian territory was temporary. They flew off Wednesday for Kabul in Afghanistan but, because of bad weather, were forced to put down at Termez, a Russian city 400 miles north of Kabul.

Present plans call for the Russians to return when the weather clears so the civic reception in the Afghan capital can go on as scheduled.

Dispatches from Kabul said that, in contrast to receptions in India and Burma, there was no public enthusiasm and little apparent preparation for the Russians' visit, except for cleaning, painting and paving along key roads.

A day before their planned arrival, the government-controlled radio and press still had not told the people when the Soviet leaders were coming. Wednesday the newspapers carried only biographical sketches of Bulganin and Khrushchev without mentioning their visit.

The Afghan government wants closer links with Russia, but it also wants to maintain ties with the West—and keep American economic aid.

In India, Bulganin and shrewd, sharp-speaking Khrushchev undoubtedly did an excellent job of salesmanship. All indications were that they convinced much of the rank and file of India's 370 million people that the Soviet Union is their friend.

They failed to swerve Prime Minister Nehru from his determination to carry India along its chosen path of democratic development, but they opened wide the gates to Soviet penetration of this vital nation. This penetration — political, economic and cultural — will not be neglected, as both leaders repeatedly indicated.

On major international problems—disarmament, the Far East, Korea, Formosa, Kashmir, Goa, the cold war—it was apparent that the visit brought Russia and India much closer together.

Even Indian officials agreed that this Russian visit was the first of many, that India henceforth will see a steady parade of Soviet officials.

Politically, the Russians succeeded in winning Nehru's endorsement of almost every major point on which Russia is fighting the cold war with the West—nuclear weapons, disarmament, Red China's place in the United Nations.

By supporting India's claim to Kashmir, Bulganin and Khrushchev assured themselves of widespread popularity here.

Economically, the Russians obtained India's signature to an agreement by which Russian-Indian trade will be greatly expanded.

U.N. TO BUY EQUIPMENT TO SEAT 16 NEW MEMBERS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

The U. N. plans to spend $173,000 for added seating and equipment in the Assembly Hall and committee rooms to take care of the 16 nations approved as new members Wednesday.

The U. N. was formed by 51 charter nations in 1945 at San Francisco, reached a total of 60 members on the admission of Indonesia in 1950, and jumped Wednesday from 60 to 76.

O'Hara Of Illinois To Receive Cuban Military Award

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Barratt O'Hara (D-Ill.), who as a boy soldier took part in Cuba's war of independence, is to go to Havana Thursday as a guest of the Cuban government to receive one of that country's highest military orders of merit.

O'Hara enlisted at 15 in the 3rd Michigan Volunteer Infantry Rough Riders in the siege against the Spanish in Santiago, Cuba.

Cuba's President Fulgencio Batista is to confer the medal on the legislator at a ceremony at the presidential palace in Havana Friday.

After his service in the Spanish-American War, O'Hara became sports editor of newspapers in St. Louis and Chicago, and also became a lawyer. He later served in various public offices in Illinois.

The 73-year-old congressman and his administrative assistant, Miss Marie Crowe, are to arrive in Havana Thursday afternoon.

New Orleans Hotel Man Admits Killing Nagging Wife

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The foster son of a well-to-do insurance executive told police Wednesday how he beat and choked his wife to death in a second-rate hotel because she nagged him.

Police identified the man as Jack Milton Campbell and said the 44-year-old former sailor and owner of the hotel was adopted in Oklahoma as an infant by James W. Campbell, 87, chairman of the board of the Security Life Insurance Co. of Denver.

"I just lost my temper," said the younger Campbell. "I held it as long as I could. She was the kind that was always nagging, nagging."

Police booked Campbell with murder in the strangulation death of his 56-year-old wife, Mary Wilhelm Campbell. He said he married her last August after they met in a bar.

The bathrobe-cord slaying climaxed a bitter quarrel in the rear room of the hotel. It began "a hell of a long time ago," said Campbell.

In Denver, the elder Campbell told the New Orleans Star: "I've spent a fortune on that boy. Drinking has been his ruin." He said he had bought two ranches and the New Orleans hotel for his adopted son.

"This is the final thing. It's all over now. It's come to an end," said the aged Denver man.

Pioneers In A-Field May Wait Ten Years To Reap Profits

CLEVELAND (AP)—It may be 15 to 20 years before pioneer industrialists in the atomic power field get any significant return from "enormous" investments, a former U. S. commissioner of patents said Wednesday.

Indeed, declared Casper W. Ooms of Chicago, many of these pioneers may get no more out of their initial investment and trail blazing work "than the patents for the inventions they contrive." He is a member of the Atomic Energy Commission's Patent Advisory Board.

He told a reporter before addressing a nuclear science and engineering congress here that firms might begin to show some return in 10 years or so from the sale of atomic power, after their pioneering reactors point the way to economically competitive A-power and they themselves build new types of reactors.

But he declared really significant returns might not be expected until a later date, when fruits of possible interim inventions might be coming in at a significant rate.

Addressing the Congress, Ooms said: "There is a special reason why the incentives of the American patent system should be offered to those who work in the field of atomic energy."

"Many of these participants in the pioneer work may get their only reward in the experience and learning which attends their efforts and the few inventions which they may contrive in this pioneer work."

Declaring that "the few inventions" that may be born during the pioneer period—and covered by U. S. patents—will protect the owners for 17 years "after the patent issues some years from now," Ooms added:

"Those patents may be the only means by which some of these participants get some return at some later date when the atomic industry expands and creates opportunities for employment of these inventions."

Russia Reverses Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations Wednesday night accepted 16 new members at an extraordinary Assembly session. An amazing and unexpected Russian reversal of policy cleared the way for the end of a 10-year stalemate on the membership issue.

In a quick succession of roll-call votes, the Assembly approved 12 non-Communist nations and 4 Red countries which had cleared the Security Council hurdle only six hours earlier.

Cheering delegates and the new members hailed the final decision as "historic" and a factor for peace.

This raised the total U. N. membership to 76. The new members, eligible immediately to vote and take part in U. N. debates, are the first to be included since Indonesia was sworn in in 1950.

The delegates voted unanimously for these non-Communist applicants: Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Austria, Finland, Ceylon, Nepal, Cambodia, and Laos.

Spain, which filed an application only this fall after being barred for years by an Assembly resolution, was accepted 55-0, Belgium and Mexico abstained.

The Arab states, Libya and Jordan were accepted 56-0 with Israel abstaining.

The first of the 16 to be admitted was Communist Albania, 48-3. China, Cuba and Greece voted against Albania. Bulgaria was approved 50-2 and Hungary and Romania were accepted 49-2. China and Cuba voted against them. Greece, the Netherlands, the Philippines, United States and the Dominican Republic abstained on all of the Communist countries.

Russia used a veto to block a Western attempt to include Japan in the list. It was the 76th veto cast by Russia in U. N. history.

The council voted unanimously to accept Jordan, Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Austria, Finland, Ceylon, Nepal, Libya, Cambodia and Laos.

Spain was admitted with a vote of 10-0 with Belgium abstaining. Albania, the oldest candidate in point of application was admitted 8-0 with Belgium, the United States and China abstaining. Hungary, Bulgaria, and Romania were accepted 9-0 with the United States and China abstaining.

The voting which ended the long stalemate on applications occupied 13 minutes.

Events had moved swiftly within the 25 hours from the time Russia and Nationalist China smashed the 18-package deal with vetoes Tuesday to the final Council approval (Continued On Page 11)

Pensioners To Receive Income Questionnaires

The Illinois Veterans' Commission Wednesday reminded veterans and widows of deceased veterans that they will soon receive an "Annual Income Questionnaire" if they have been receiving a pension from the Government. Willard A. Manning, Administrator, urged recipients to return the questionnaire immediately to the Veterans Administration. Failure to return the income questionnaire will result in discontinuance of pension payments.

Pension benefits are granted widows, who meet all qualifications, and whose income is less than $1400 without dependants or $2700 with dependants. Pensioners are also payable to veterans under the above income limitations who are suffering from non-service connected disabilities; the disabilities must be permanent and must be total.

Mr. Manning stated that pension rates for a veteran is $66.15 monthly which increases to $78.75 a month upon attaining age 65. Attainment of age 65 is not an automatic qualification for payment of pension. The pension rate for a widow is $50.40 monthly with additional allowance for minor children.

Additional information and assistance in the completion of the annual income questionnaire may be obtained at any of the Illinois Veterans' Commission offices throughout the State.

In Morgan county, veterans should contact the Illinois Veterans' Commission Service Officer at 6-7 Morrison Building in Jacksonville.

The office is open daily between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. and on Saturday until noon.

Jury Finds For Defendant In Damage Suit

A sealed verdict was opened in Morgan county court Wednesday morning, finding the defendant "not guilty" in the personal injury damage suit of Cheryl Ann Rowland, a minor et al., against John L. Lewis, and Jesse C. Rowland against John L. Lewis.

The jury, which had been hearing evidence in the consolidated suits since Monday, arrived at a verdict at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. At a trial last May a jury returned verdicts in favor of the plaintiffs and fixing damages for injury in a collision that occurred Aug. 17, 1952, near the Birdsell drive-in restaurant on the South Main highway. A new trial later was ordered.

Jurors hearing the personal injury suit were Russell H. Kehl, William L. Hadden, Gertrude Deatherage, Elizabeth Tubb, Ethel Lowery, Marietta Turner, Ethel T. Carter, Lois M. Walpole, Don Werries, Burleigh Davenport, Oscar Rieken and Roscoe Mawson.

After ordering the opening of the sealed verdict Wednesday morning, Judge Clem Smith called the suit of Lena Phelps against Floyd Hobson, Carl Yeckel, Francis A. McGinnis and Margaret M. Doolin, to trial, and selection of a jury, as begun.

Mrs. Phelps asks damages under the Dram Shop Act for the death of her son, Donald Combs, 20, who was killed in an automobile accident Nov. 25, 1954. The complaint filed some months ago alleged that liquor was sold to a companion of Combs at taverns in Jacksonville and Mercedes, and that liquor consumed by the driver of the car was responsible for the tragedy. The suit was directed against operators and property owners of the two taverns named in the suit.

Attorney Harry G. Story represents Mrs. Phelps and attorneys for the defense are Robinson, Foreman, Rammekamps & Bradley of this city and Jenkins, Olsen & Cantrell of Springfield.

Jim Walker Slugged At Mason City After Basketball Contests

Jim Walker, 16, a member of the Jacksonville High school junior varsity basketball team, was slugged into insensibility Tuesday night at Mason City as he waited on the school grounds to board a bus for the return trip after two games. He was brought to Passavant hospital by ambulance.

A 17 year old Pekin youth was blamed by Mason City school officials and bystanders for the attack, which was described as "unprovoked." Mason City school officials said that legal action will be taken against the suspect when he is apprehended.

Walker, son of Mrs. Lloyd Walker, 315 South Kosciuszko street, was unconscious about 20 minutes after he was struck on the jaw, presumably by his assailant's fist.

After being senseless for a considerable period of time the Jacksonville boy asked "what happened?"

Has Bruise On Face

At noon Wednesday it was reported that the young man had not sustained any fractures, but that he has a large bruise on his face and will remain at the hospital for observation.

Both Supt. Wilford Sanders of the Mason City high school and Principal John Agger of Jacksonville high school said the attack on Walker was unprovoked and did not result from anything that happened during the two basketball games.

Supt. Sanders said he talked Tuesday night with the Mason county state's attorney concerning the assault. "If no one else prefers charges against the suspect, I will," Sanders said Wednesday morning.

"There wasn't as much noise at the game as usual," the Mason City superintendent continued. "I was much surprised to learn that there had been any disturbance outside the building."

Suspect Disappears

Sanders said he had been informed that young Walker was struck by a youth who resides at Pekin and was visiting in Mason City. The suspect left the scene after the assault and presumably returned to Pekin. The boy has never been a student at Mason City, the superintendent stated.

Principal Agger of Jacksonville high school said "there was no trouble at the game—the attack was entirely unprovoked." Relations between the two schools have always been friendly, he said.

Agger also said that he stands ready to sign a warrant, but that he is confident the Mason City school officials will act to bring the guilty youth to justice.

Walker played in the junior varsity contest which Jacksonville won. The Crimson dropped the varsity contest.

Interpreting The News

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The fight over membership in the United Nations is likely to lead to a strong campaign to oust Nationalist China. If it succeeds, American prestige and world leadership will have been dealt severe blows.

This is true despite the passage by the Security Council of a package deal approving membership in the U. N. for 16 nations of the 18 in the deal which failed Tuesday as a result of Nationalist Chinese and Soviet vetoes.

The campaign could take shape if there is a session of the General Assembly in the spring. At any rate, India's V. K. Krishna Menon, who can scarcely be considered a friend of the United States, is reported sparking a move to oust the Formosa delegation once and for all. Such a drive would find support among the Asian-African nations and probably help along the Soviet propaganda drive in Asia.

The United States is identified in the United Nations with the Chiang Kai-shek regime, and the membership situation may push Washington along toward a position of isolation in its support of Chiang. Thus, Chiang's decision to veto the membership application of Outer Mongolia may have turned up earth for the grave of Nationalist ambitions.

Once the question had progressed as far as a vote on the 18-applicant package deal, the merits of the Mongolian People's Republic, an out-and-out Soviet satellite, were beside the point. The United States already had modified its position on the application and had decided to abstain in the voting. Thus, many will attach the blame primarily to the Chiang regime, and fuel will be added to the propaganda fire being built under the Formosa government.

At present the most active arenas of the cold war are in Asia and the Middle East. There is much to be gained or lost in those areas in the next year. Another Asian-African conference like the one in Indonesia last spring is likely to take place in the middle of 1956.

It is in the Middle East and Asia that Tuesday's rejection of the package deal is likely to arouse most resentment. Many Asians already deny the right of the Chiang government to be represented at all in the United Nations.

There may also be a considerable amount of resentment in Latin America, whose republics have supported Nationalist China.

The Soviet Union, which applied the veto to the 13 applicant non-Communist nations, must reap some of the censure, and undoubtedly will do so in the countries involved. But the Soviet Union argued with considerable success as far as Asia is concerned, that the Chiang veto alone was responsible for collapse of the deal. And it argues further that the Chiang regime could not exist without the support of the United States.

The development thus poses yet another challenge to the world leadership of the United States.

Dorothy McGuire, Husband Sue Each Other For Divorce

BUNNELL, Fla. (AP)—Singer Dorothy McGuire, a member of the Arthur Godfrey broadcasting troupe, and her husband are suing each other for divorce. Both charge cruelty.

Miss McGuire, 27, has several times complained that her married life with Sgt. John Henry Brown of the Air Force was overcast by too much publicity.

Public interest in the marriage began two years ago when former Godfrey singer Julius La Rosa was dismissed from the troupe during a broadcast. At the time he said he loved Dorothy and wanted to marry her if she could gain her freedom.

The divorce suits were disclosed last night by Miss McGuire's lawyer Charles E. Booth. He said Brown filed the original suit here last Aug. 16, seven months after she publicly announced reconciliation.

Miss McGuire filed a countersuit Aug. 30 and the two are now waiting for a court decision on which suit will be heard first.

The couple, who have no children, married July 30, 1951, in Dorothy's hometown of Miami, Fla. Brown was later sent to Korea and his wife went on to entertainment fame as one of Godfrey's singing McGuire sisters.

When told of the divorce action Tuesday night, La Rosa expressed surprise. He said he had not seen Dorothy since "three days before last New Year's." La Rosa, who was in New York for a television broadcast, said he was reluctant to say anything. When pressed, he said he did not know when he might see Miss McGuire again and added "one can never tell. We're both in show business, you know."

LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT

MOUNT HOPE, W. Va. (AP) — It was the night of the Mount Hope-Oak Hill football game when a man told police he saw someone take a spotlight from a car.

The alert policemen apprehended the culprits soon afterward, and used the field's public address system to announce that the owner could claim his light. No one showed up, but the cops found the owner's identity when they went to their squad car after the game—their spotlight was missing.

BEWARE THE "COCO DILE"—This anti-Communist poster in Paris, France, symbolizes the Soviet's "Geneve Spirit." The poster depicts Russian friendship as being armed with sharp teeth. That impression was given by statements of Russia's Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin on their Asian tour. In the French caption "The Smile of the Coco... dile Is Its Strongest Weapon," "Coco" is a play on the French nickname for Communists.

Simplicity Comes To Lamp Market

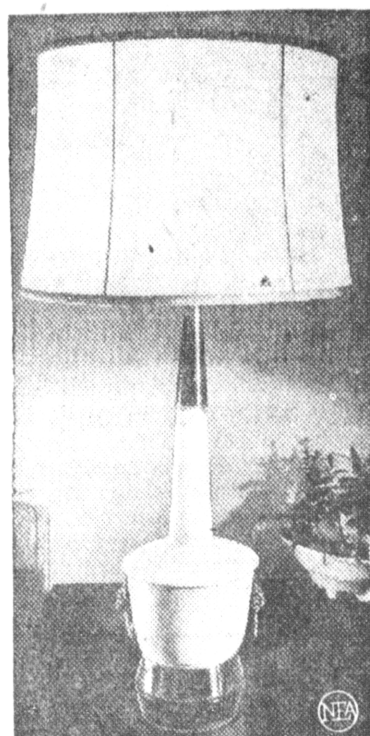

New Styles Take Frills From The Picture-Window Scene

Typical of new lamps that accent simple lines rather than elaborate ornamentation is this one in antique pewter finish. Bucket-shaped base is paired with a simple white silk shade.

Dark green Italian glass is wrapped in simulated “wicker” for a slender lamp that rises 35 inches tall. It's typical of this year's simple designs. Shade is green burlap.

White ceramic base of this inexpensive lamp is brightened with brass and adorned with lion's heads. Shantung makes the lightly textured shade of this new style.

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

The picture window prominence of the delicate lamp with the fluffy shade is being challenged by new lamps that shed the frill-frill and put the accent on simple and elegant design.

I'm not making any bets on how successful the challenge will be, but homemakers hunting for “just the right” lamp—not too frilly nor too bleakly modern—will find a satisfying variety of handsome designs. Ideas and materials pulled from worldwide sources are adapted to fit into traditional or contemporary interiors.

Italian glass Scandinavian ceramics, Spanish tile, Oriental met-alwork plus a liberal use of American colonial motifs are all to be noted. Surface treatments of basic materials come into the foreground.

Glass bases, for example, may be tinted, marbled, cracked or frosted. Antique finishes subdue the gleam of pewter and brass. Often the polished sheen of wood is sparkled up with bright brass touches.

One collection of floor and table lamps combines walnut and brass in a variety of ways. The designs are reminiscent of Duncan Phyfe, modernized and simplified.

Contours may be slim and columnar, rounded or curved, but many table lamps are rising to new heights to accommodate lower occasional tables. At the same time, floor lamps stay short and slim out-of deference to lower seating units. Incidentally, I have seen several versions of the floor lamp with a tray girdling its middle to combine the functions of lamp and table.

Shades, too, are essentially simple in shape but rely on textured surfaces for eye appeal. Sometimes the texture is brought out by woven yarn, velvet, metal, wood strands. Patterned shades keyed to the base also give a unified look to lamps.

Butterflies on the base will be repeated in the shade. A ship-in-a-bottle base matches up to an old navigational map on the shade. Another striking shade is striped in thin walnut veneer strips to match the walnut base.

Prices, of course, cover a broad range, but I've been happy to find what I consider beautiful lamps in the moderate price range.

Players Refuse To Accept Owners' Rejection Of Plans

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (P)—The major league player representatives, in an unprecedented action, refused point blank Wednesday to accept the club owners' rejection of certain proposals submitted to the magnates at their annual winter meeting in Chicago last week.

After meeting with their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, to hear his report of his session with Commissioner Ford Frick Tuesday, the player representatives stated they "could not go along with the rejection by the owners of certain proposals."

Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, the American League's player representative, said the group was "particularly incensed" over the turning down of two of the proposals, on television and on raising minimum salaries.

Feller and Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, the National League's representative, and Lewis, will meet with Frick Thursday.

The players didn't say what they would do if they didn't come to an agreement with Frick and the owners.

The owners are scheduled to meet again Feb. 4. They rejected the players' demands in Chicago recently.

"We probably will have something to add after then—but I hope we don't," said Feller, once one of the highest paid players in the game.

At Tuesday's meeting, Frick told Lewis why the owners had rejected the players' propositions.

Among other requests, the players asked for an increase of $1,200 to the $6,000 minimum salary, and that they be consulted and kept informed on negotiations for the radio-television rights of the World Series and All-Star game. A new contract will be made this summer.

The players feel these negotiations may result in the sale of the radio-TV privileges for as much as five million dollars instead of the current revenue of one million. Sixty per cent of that money goes into the players' pension fund.

Feller made no effort to conceal his indignation as he discussed the players' grievances with reporters, and at times had to be cautioned by Lewis not to say too much. Roberts also sat in on the news conferences, but appeared undisturbed.

"The (club owners) gave us a flat no on everything," Feller said. "They didn't even bother to come back with a counter proposal—which we probably would have accepted. Why they don't want us to sit in on the television negotiations is beyond me. The players have an equal stake in the thing as the owners—even more so. After all, we get 60 per cent of the world series proceeds to their 40 per cent. That means each owner gets only 2 1/2 per cent. Yet they can sit in on the contract negotiations and we can't."

By HOWARD S. BENEDICT
SALT LAKE CITY (P)—The University of Utah is bidding for its first national basketball championship since 1944 behind the "feather touch" of one of the most rugged players in the game.

Art Bunte stands 6-3 and weighs 215, and speed and aggressiveness keep him in the key spot under the basket where most coaches put their tallest men.

"Shucks, we should win 'em all if nothing goes wrong," says that confident Bunte in his self-effacing way. "We've got the team that can do it."

Cherub-faced Art's basketball antics have hoop fans in the Mountain states buzzing. Sports writers and coaches who have seen him play this year say he's a cinch for All-America honors unless he breaks a leg.

Last year "Artful Art" set a bunch of Utah and Skyline Conference scoring records in leading the Redskins to the league championship and seventh place in the final Associated Press poll.

This year Art and the team—which lost only one regular—were operating at mid-season efficiency after only three games, and this week are ranked No. 3 in the AP poll.

In three games the "Runnin' Redskins" have averaged 95 points while holding the opposition to an average of 53. Included is a record-shattering 119-45 triumph over Arizona.

Bunte has played an average of only 25 minutes each game but has scored 62 points. Last season he averaged 19.2 in rolling up 538 points in 28 games.

Utah Coach Jack Gardner calls Bunte "one of the greatest basketball players—ever coached."

Art is famous for his amazing feather touch. After the ball leaves his hands it seems to glide like a feather through the nets.

"The secret," Art says, "is in the way I let the ball slip off my finger tips. I really can't explain it. It just seems to float away from me."

Bunte shoots the ball so lightly that if he does miss a shot the ball seems to hang on the rim of the basket long enough for a teammate to tip it in.

Art's shooting accuracy this year is 45.8 per cent. Last year he had 40.4 per cent for the season.

Actually, Bunte looks more like a football player than a court artist. When he rushes down the floor he gives the impression that he might keep going right on through the wall of the gym, but once in the center post, he is graceful as a ballet dancer.

SANTA'S TIPLING ENDS IN FIGHT

NEW YORK (P)—Santa Claus got a snootful Wednesday and wound up in a fist fight.

A relief Santa took over 45-year-old George Whitestone's chimney at 42nd and Madison Ave. to give him a 10-minute coffee break.

Instead of 10 minutes, Whitestone took five hours. And instead of coffee, he took booze.

When he got back to his post, Capt. John Lingerfelt in charge of all street corner Santas for the Volunteers of America, was waiting for him with the order:

"Turn in your suit."

Santa punched Lingerfelt in the nose and they fell to fighting. Cops finally broke it up.

Meanwhile, with the relief Santa pinned down by Whitestone's absence, Santas all over mid-Manhattan went without coffee breaks.

The relief Santa's job it to circulate around town giving regular Santas time off for coffee.

Douglas Resigns As Asst. Coach Of Chicago Cardinals

CHICAGO (P)—Otis Douglas has resigned as an assistant coach of the Chicago Cardinals and another assistant is unlikely to have his contract renewed for next season.

This became known Wednesday as head Coach Ray Richards denied dissention existed on his staff or that Douglas and the other assistant, Tommy Thompson, resulting were to be released as rumored.

The Cardinal managing director, Walter Wolfner, said Douglas—whose contract expires Dec. 31—was informed the club he was quitting to consider a head coaching job with an unidentified Eastern college.

"Thompson's contract runs until April 30," said Wolfner. "It's up to Richards to decide if it will be renewed."

The 1955 Cardinals finished with a National Football League record of 4-7-1.

Richards' contract as head coach also expires April 30, but Wolfner said Wednesday he would be offered a new pact.

Wolfner said the Cardinals never were at full strength all season and had as many as eight first-line players sidelined at one time with injuries.

Concerning the rumor of staff dissention, Richards said "it's ridiculous. There has been no trouble on the staff whatsoever."

Douglas, former Arkansas head coach, was a tackle and Thompson a quarterback with the champion Philadelphia Eagles in 1948-49.

Southpaw pitcher Johnny Oldham, who will be getting a spring trial with the Cincinnati Redlegs, played four years of baseball at San Jose State College.

CHICAGO (P)—Eight young minor leaguers, ranging in age from 19 to 26, have been invited to train with the Chicago Cubs at their Mesa, Ariz., spring baseball camp which opens Feb. 20.

Five of the rookies are on assignment from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League, and three from Tulsa of the Texas League.

Selected from Los Angeles: righthanded pitchers Bob Anderson and Dick Drott, outfielder—first baseman Prentice Browne, infielder K. C. Wise and outfielder Eddie Haas.

From Tulsa are outfielders Dave Cunningham and Frank Ernaga and infielder Don Lauters.

CHICAGO (P)—Dan Thornburg's jump shot in the last 10 seconds Wednesday night gave Purdue of the Big Ten a 69-68 basketball victory over Loyola of Chicago.

LAKERS DEFEAT PISTONS
BOSTON (P)—The Minneapolis Lakers, led by Clyde Lovellette, Vern Mikkelsen and Whitey Skoog, led all the way Wednesday night while defeating the Ft. Wayne Pistons 95-85 in the opener of a National Basketball Assn. double-header.

BRVES TO TRY MANTILLA
MILWAUKEE (P)—The Milwaukee Braves will give shortstop Felix Mantilla a good looking over in spring training at Bradenton, Fla. Although only 21 he has had four years in pro ball. He hit .275 for Toledo in 1955. The youthful Puerto Rican also played third base and the outfield.

I.C. Downs Eureka In Non-Conference Game

Coach Al Miller's Blueboys handed Eureka College its first loss of the season here last night by an easy 61-52 margin. I. C. led throughout the game to wrap up its fifth win in six starts this season.

I. C. and Eureka are in the Prairie College Conference but tonight's game had no bearing in the conference's won and loss standings. Last year the Blueboys played Eureka twice in league play and only one game could be scheduled for this year. Eureka will play host to the Millermen in conference play January 27th.

Ten players hit the scoring column for the Blueboys assuring coach Al Miller of some scoring punch in his cagers for their Invitational Tournament this Saturday, Dec. 17.

Ed Harrell and Jim Bonds combined their talents once again to lead I. C. scorers with 13 markers apiece. The same two players hit 20 points apiece against Rose Poly. Rog Curfman, Bill Morris and Ed Batley had eight tallies apiece for the Blueboys.

Bob Strickland, Eureka guard, netted 22 points.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (P)—Possibly there are football fans who believe the rules makers are just born tinkers; a bunch of do-it-yourself guys who would take a glittering new bicycle that turns perfectly and fool around with it until it would run only in a circle.

"Tink' necessarily so. The rules committee of the American Football Coaches Assn., whose recommendations usually are adopted by the NCAA committee, thinks the game is pretty good as is, and isn't planning to tinker with it at present.

The coaches' committee, in a tabloid-size questionnaire sent to members of the association, bears this notation:

"The replies to the coaches' rules committee letter of Nov. 4 in which all members of our association were asked to submit proposed changes to be included in the annual rules questionnaire have been received and studied. It is quite evident that the coaches prefer that the rules remain unchanged for the 1956 season, with the exception of editorial changes which will be made for clarification wherever necessary. There were only very few proposed rule changes and, in fact, nothing was suggested that had not been proposed before."

It was pointed out there was only one complaint of any real importance. That concerned the so-called "false start." It seems there are teams which consider it good, clean fun to devise a fake move to draw the opposing team offside and thus into a penalty.

Last January the committee spent two full days studying the problem and trying to draft the rule for better clarity, but the result was negative.

They just couldn't find a way to improve the rule against false starts without running into difficulties in some other direction.

Consequently nothing was done this year, but a committee was named to study the problem, and report at the next meeting.

Rutgers University Looking For New Football Coach

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (P)—Rutgers University is looking for a football coach to replace Harvey Harman—but the new grid coach must follow the university's policy, not his own.

This was announced Wednesday by an advisory committee, comprised of former football players of the past four decades after a meeting with Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, Rutgers president.

About 50 applications have been received by Rutgers for the position vacated recently by Harman. Jones said, "We are not going to bargain for a coach who wants to set the policies. We will set policies and be sure he conforms."

Baseball Writers Pick Herb Score As Top Freshman; Klaus 2nd

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (P)—Birdie Tebbetts is a National Leaguer now but in 1952 he was a member of the Cleveland Indians, serving out a 16-year career as a big league catcher. That's when he first met Herb Score, the young fireballer named Wednesday as the American League rookie of the year for 1955.

"I'll never forget that day either," the present manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs recalled recently. "It was during batting practice before a night game in June and Al Lopez, the manager, brought this skinny, long-legged kid over and said to me: 'Grab a mit, Birdie, and catch this kid for a while, will you?'"

"So I guided this boy over to the sidelines near the Indians' dugout, took my position in back of a makeshift home plate, and casually held out the mitt. The kid wound up and—zoom! I never even saw that first pitch. Lucky for me it was two feet over my head or I wouldn't be here to tell you about it."

"Now I was prepared but it didn't do me much good. It was purely instinct that kept me from being maimed. The balls bounced in front of me, behind me, shot over my head, to the left and to the right of me. But every one was a bullet. The few he did get over almost tore the glove right off my hand. I was 41 years old then and I said to myself, 'Birdie, if you value your life, you'd better get out of here.'"

The Indians signed the 19-year-old Score the next day and gave him a bonus of $60,000. The young southpaw was sent to Indianapolis where he got into a dozen games. He fanned 61 batters in 62 innings, but he was wild as a young steer. He issued 62 passes and wound up the season with a 2-5 won-loss record.

But he was a sensation in 1954, winning 22 while losing 3 and striking out 330 batters to set an American Assn. mark.

Score continued his spectacular streakout success last season with Cleveland, fanning 245 to set a record for first year pitchers. The 6-2, 185-pound fastballer, who also owns one of the best curve balls in the business, won 16 games while losing 10 and ranked fourth in earned run percentage with 2.85.

The 24-man committee of baseball writers who participated in the voting named him the top freshman on 18 ballots. Billy Klaus, peppery shortstop for the Boston Red Sox, got five nominations. Klaus batted .283, proved a valuable man in the clutch and played a steady game afield. The other vote went to Norm Zaichin, a teammate of Klaus'. The big first baseman hit only .239 but slammed 27 home runs, including 3 in one game on May 27, to account for 10 runs batted in.

Spartans Hold Brief Workout Before Snow Flies

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—The Michigan State football team had a brief hour-long workout Wednesday afternoon, quiting the practice field when snow started to fall.

The practice still counts as one of the 16 allowed before the Rose Bowl game with UCLA Jan. 2.

Coach Duffy Daugherty planned a similar brief session for Thursday—the last before the team flies to Pasadena Friday morning.

All-America quarterback Earl Morrall of Muskegon and fullback Don Gilbert of Dubois, Pa., both were bothered by colds—"pretty good ones," according to team physician Dr. James Feurig.

Dr. Feurig said he would keep the two in the college hospital overnight to rest. His main worry is that the pair might develop sinus trouble from the colds during the plane trip. Dr. Feurig said.

Judge Goodman commented: "Frankly, there doesn't seem to me to be any evidence to sustain allegations of breach of contract by Olson, or any evidence of inducement by Flaherty."

The expression came after Bernard B. Glickfield, attorney for Flaherty moved to dismiss the complaint and argued there was no evidence to support the demand by Campos, who says his right to manage Olson outranks Flaherty's.

Goodman reserved ruling on the motion to dismiss, however, pending presentation by Flaherty and Olson of more testimony on the vital 1951 meeting of the Territorial Boxing Commission, when Campos was quoted as saying that Olson was free to go to the mainland and that Campos wouldn't stand in the way of Olson's making more money.

DOUBLE TROUBLE
ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (P)—Everett (Skeeter) Diehl, 14, suffered both bullet and buckshot wounds in the leg when accidentally struck by a 30-30 rifle bullet.

Diehl was mistaken for a deer by a member of his hunting party. The high powered rifle bullet struck a .410 shotgun shell in the youth's pocket and exploded it.

3,200 HORSES IN FLORIDA
MIAMI, Fla. (P)—The three Florida racetracks under Thoroughbred Racing Assn. jurisdiction will stable 3,200 horses this winter. The tracks are Hialeah, Gulfstream and Tropical Park. It costs about $410 a month to stable, feed, groom and train a race horse.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected convertibles and industrial issues weakened to leave the bond market lower on balance Wednesday. U. S. Treasury obligations firmed for the first time this week in the over-the-counter market. Corporate volume declined to $3,540,000 par value from $4,510,000 Tuesday.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market had a late sinking spell Wednesday and finished well in the red. Losses went to around $3 in key places. Gains to $2 were found infrequently.

The market began mixed, then headed down gently.

There was no specific cause for the retreat of prices, which never was acute.

The market last week got back to the old high established Sept. 23 just before the major reaction that came with the news of the President's heart attack. Although the market made up the estimated 20 billion dollars lost in the quoted value of listed securities, it never penetrated the old highs with any degree of vigor.

That has brought on disappointed selling from many quarters and provided an undercurrent of bearishness. Additional irregularity has been caused by late tax selling and switching.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks Wednesday lost $1.30 at $178.40. The record high is $181.50. The industrial component of the average fell back $2.00, railroads were off $1.20, and utilities were lower by 20 cents.

Volume mounted to 2,670,000 on the sell-off as compared with 2,430,000 shares traded in Tuesday's slightly lower market.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 890,000 shares as compared with 840,000 traded Tuesday.

LATE DROP IN CORN WEAKENS OTHER GRAIN

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—Corn fell back rapidly in the last 15 minutes on the Board of Trade Wednesday and its weakness undermined the rest of the grain list.

Final prices in corn were 1 1/2-2 1/2 lower with the December contract off the most. Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 lower, oats 1/8 lower to 1/2 higher, rye 1 1/2-2 1/2 lower, soybeans 3/4-1 1/2 lower and lard 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.

While corn was easy from the start it was not until late in the session that it developed real weakness. In part the selling appeared based on a belief deliveries of cash corn on December contracts have not gone into strong hands.

Traders noted also that the Commodity Credit Corp. sold three million bushels of grain sorghums to exporters at Gulf of Mexico ports at $2.04 1/2 to $2.14 1/2 a hundred pounds. This cuts down on the foreign demand for corn as grain sorghums are a competitive feed grain.

For most of the session old crop wheat futures held firm, aided mainly by short covering in the December contract. A further help was an award of two million dollars to Formosa to purchase bread grains.

Soybeans sold off late in sympathy with corn. Export circles said Denmark, Norway and West Germany were expected in the market for beans later this month.

CRASH UNAVOIDABLE SAYS GORDON MacRAE

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Singer Gordon Macrae has pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of drunk driving and asked a jury trial. It was set for Jan. 9.

Macrae, 34, was jailed after being involved in a four-car collision early Tuesday. He was released on $263 bail.

"The crash was unavoidable," he told newsmen. "I dropped a lighted cigarette on the floor of my car and the accident happened when I leaned over to pick it up. I had exactly two drinks during the evening, which I spent rehearsing for a new night club act."

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Plans of City Collector Edmund D. Wilcox to return to work after a long absence with a fractured hip took a turn for the worse as he was entering a revolving door. He went back to Silver Cross hospital with fractured right leg.

Wilcox was walking slowly with a cane when a woman suddenly dashed from a hallway through the revolving door, catching Wilcox's heel and tripping him.

Sen. Johnson Gets 'Survival School' Favorable Report OnHeart Condition

ATLANTA (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority leader, got a very favorable report from a heart specialist Wednesday and talked at length with another Southern Democratic stalwart, Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.).

Whatever the two party leaders went over in private, they had nothing of import to disclose to newsmen. There had been earlier reports that Johnson might seek to use his big Texas Democratic convention delegation to rally support behind a Southern conservative for the 1956 nomination.

Russell, who stood third at one time in the sharp 1952 nomination contest in Chicago, generally meets the nominee specifications attributed to Johnson. He was waiting at Emory University Hospital where the Texan went for a consultation and the two spent most of the morning together.

Neither had any political comment immediately afterwards and Johnson left by plane during the afternoon for his Whitney, Tex., home. After Christmas there, he plans to go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., for a further checkup before deciding whether he can return to his "daylight to midnight" job as Democratic floor leader.

Soviet Returns Oil Industries To Romania

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced Wednesday night it has given its half interest in Romania's valuable oil industry back to the Romanians.

The announcement said an agreement was signed in Bucharest Tuesday giving Romania Soviet-held shares in the oil enterprise. It said Romania will pay for the stock "on favorable terms and by installments over a number of years." The amount of money involved was not stated.

The joint Russian-Romanian oil operations were set up in 1945 when a two-nation company called "Sovrom Petrol" was organized on an equal share basis. It carried on the prospecting, production and refining of petroleum on Romania.

Asserting that the extraction of Romanian oil has doubled since 1945, the announcement said there are now "highly trained cadres of Romanian oil workers and the necessary experience has been accumulated by the Romanian oil industry."

"For this reason," it added, "the task set before the joint company has been fulfilled and the agreement made to return the Soviet-held stock. Thus all oil enterprises in Romania will be now completely in the hands of the Romanians."

Wednesday. Delegates felt frustrated this morning V. K. Krishna Menon, India, told Maza he would raise the issue in the Assembly by noon. Before he spoke, however, Maza interrupted a session of the Assembly to announce a "great power" had requested an "urgent" meeting of the Security Council to reconsider the question of memberships.

The power was identified quickly as Russia. The Council meeting was set for 4 p.m. The delegates lounge, where the U. N. people meet informally, buzzed with excitement. Rumors flew fast.

The Soviet delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, got down to business with no delay. He said the "obstruction" of one man had not permitted the Council to solve the problem by admitting all 18. He was referring to the Nationalist Chinese delegate, T. F. Tsiang, and his vote against Outer Mongolia.

He said Russia continues to believe all 18 should be admitted, as proposed by 52 members of the Assembly in a resolution adopted Dec. 8. Then came his change of pace.

"Wishing to cooperate in a solution, the Soviet Union withdraws its negative vote to the series of countries," Sobolev said. "The Soviet Union will vote in favor of their admission with the exception of Japan, bearing in mind that the question of Japan and Mongolian Peoples Republic (Outer Mongolia), which did not yield positive recommendation be postponed for consideration by the next session of the Assembly."

"The Soviet Union assumes that between sessions measures will be taken by united action to permit the entry of these countries."

He said Russia had not changed its stand in favor of admitting Japan but that for "obvious reasons" the question of Japan was being referred to the next session. Diplomats pointed out Sobolev apparently meant two things: (1) Russia would launch a new drive to oust Nationalist China before the next session and (2) Russia would step up its attempt to drive a good bargain with Japan in peace treaty negotiations.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate, put in an amendment to the Russian resolution proposing admission of Japan.

The voting began and Sobolev vetoed Japan. This makes 44 vetoes the Russians have used to block membership applications

Our Saviour's Hospital Grateful For Grants; Campaign Continues

The pace-setter gift in the Our Saviour's Hospital capital construction campaign came in Monday night with the announcement of the Ford Foundation $51,800 grant to the hospital. The gift was part of $333,600 received here by the two hospitals and two colleges.

The gratitude of the Administration, Medical Staff and Advisory Board was expressed to the foundation in a telegram over the signatures of Sister Mary Magdala, C.S.C., Administrator; Dr. T. W. Auner, Chief of Staff; and Dr. Victor H. Sheppard, Chairman of the Advisory Board.

It read as follows: "Generosity of Ford Foundation to Our Saviour's hospital is indeed a windfall. Administration, medical staff and advisory board of this hospital are deeply indebted to Foundation for their vision in authorizing program of grants. Gift of $51,800 will be applied to second phase of building program exceeding slightly more than one million dollars. Thus the Foundation supplied the pace-setter gift in our current public subscription campaign, the successful completion of which will enable the hospital to expand and improve its services."

Dr. Sheppard, who also serves as chairman of the Steering committee, the campaign guiding group, emphasized that while the leadership is grateful for the gift, it represents only a small portion of the great need for slightly more than one million dollars in capital construction.

He went on to say: "Since last February the campaign has been moved forward on a carefully thought through, progressive schedule of accomplishment. Careful analysis of the first phase discovered weaknesses which since have been corrected; namely, that the large significant gifts which always must be in a campaign, were missing."

Large Gifts Needed
He explained that large gifts are now possible because of a better definition of the extreme need, and why economically - able people should give, and second, ways have been devised to obtain long-range giving which will not impair the donor's business or financial condition.

Sister M. Magdala stated that the extreme need to which Dr. Sheppard made reference is the construction of a new wing to the hospital and renovation to older parts of the plant. Widened "conducts of giving" consist of lengthening the pledge period from three to four, five or six years; installing the Letter of Intention which is a written statement from the donor containing all personal reservations with respect to amount of payment and gift; a gifts-in-kind program to try and lighten the cost to the hospital of materials, supplies and services which must be purchased; and finally a bequest program directed to gifts arising from estates.

Sister Magdala said: "The Sisters of the Holy Cross are appreciative of the work of Dr. Sheppard and the more than 70 outstanding citizens of this community who have gone through many hours of training to get the story of the real crisis which exists here." She pointed out: "Their work in quiet, behind-the-scenes solicitation is beginning to take root and be productive of a number of excellent gifts."

Committee Studies Plans
Numerous committee meetings have been held with cross sections of Jacksonville business, industrial and social life. Dr. Sheppard said one of these groups: "It is crystal clear that the hospital construction problem before our community must be solved by one of two approaches. First, we can participate in the Our Saviour's Hospital Building Fund program to construct a new wing and rehabilitate the existing structure, or second, abandon Our Saviour's entirely; and complete a new hospital from the ground up with the attendant problem of staffing it."

He went on to say: "If it were necessary to start completely from 'scratch' with a new hospital, the community would be faced with raising two and a half million dollars—perhaps even more if building costs continue to rise and inflation remains a factor of importance."

Work With Physicians
Campaign Steering Committee members each have sub-committee responsibilities. Dr. P. A. Norris and Chairman of the Medical group, Dr. A. G. Schultz, are working with the physicians. The medical men have recognized the importance of the building program and are going to meet a fair and generous objective. Lohman Wagner held several briefings and negotiation meetings with industrialists with the result that Jacksonville's industry will participate in a representative way. Dr. Sheppard has met with officers of clubs and organizations and these individuals are consulting with their membership to assure significant participation. Floyd Cox is working with national firms representatives and strong appeals are being made to home offices through the local managers.

Frank Flynn has enlisted a number of individuals throughout the county and general area to provide for approach to individual donors within a 25-mile radius.

Dr. Sheppard says the long-time planning combined with a very valid reason for giving, plus dedicated well-trained solicitors supported by committee approach to the community will result in a successful campaign and ultimately in the urgent construction.

Mrs. Harold Marshall, executive secretary of the Building Fund office, reported collections past the $200,000 mark of the $355,000 first phase production.

Petitions Circulated For Warren Wright

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Supporters of State Treasurer Warren Wright, a Republican who has said he may be candidate for governor or secretary of state next year, are preparing for both possibilities.

Glenn Henderson, Springfield insurance man who said in a statement he speaks for the "Committee of One Million Friends of Warren Wright," announced today that two sets of petitions are being circulated for Wright.

One names him for the office of governor and the other for secretary of state. Wright cannot run for reelection as treasurer.

Gov. Stratton is expected to announce Jan. 6 that he is a candidate for reelection. Secretary of State Charles Carpenter last night announced his intention to run again on the Republican slate.

"We want the people to let us know whether they want Warren Wright for governor or for secretary of state, and we will abide by their decision as shown on the nominating petitions," Henderson said.

He said petitions would be mailed in the next few days to all Republican precinct committeemen in the state and to the committee members.

Henderson expressed confidence there would be enough signatures on both petitions to meet requirements.

He said Wright has decided to choose to run for the office for which the most petitions sign.

"He's in a quandary as to what to run for," Henderson said.

The method of reaching a decision, Henderson said, is the idea of the committee but Wright approved it.

Henderson said Wright will not reach a decision before Jan. 16, the first date on which candidates may file nominating petitions for the primary.

WINCHESTER—Leonard W. Esper, representing Charles F. Carpenter, Secretary of State, presented a rare photograph of Abraham Lincoln to the county commissioners of Scott County, at the Court House, on Monday, December 12th.

The picture is one which Lincoln used in his campaign for the Presidency in 1860, and until three years ago, experts thought it impossible to produce a print of the photograph from a cracked glass negative now under guard at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. In 1952 duplicate negatives of this picture were found in the effects of the late George B. Ayers of Philadelphia, making a reprint of this photograph possible. A similar picture is being presented to each County in State to be hung in the Court House in each County.

Mrs. Edna Burks Dies In Route 104 Accident; Mrs. Stewart Injured

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Burks, 44-year-old Jacksonville widow who was killed late Tuesday night when her car left the highway east of Meredosia, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Williamson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

The accident occurred at the Y junction of Routes 100 and 104.

Her companion, Mrs. Vera Stewart, 46, of 412 East Douglas avenue, was injured. Her condition was reported satisfactory Wednesday at Passavant hospital. Her condition is not believed serious.

Mrs. Burks was an employee of the Capps clothing factory, and Mrs. Stewart is also an employee there. Both women are widows.

Rushed to Passavant in the Bates ambulance from Bluffs, Mrs. Burks was pronounced dead on arrival. She sustained extensive head and chest injuries.

Both Thrown From Car
Coroner William L. Hawks said both women were hurled out of the 1951 Pontiac car owned by Mrs. Burks, which was traveling east. Hawks said the women were returning to Jacksonville from a trip to Meredosia.

The tragedy occurred at the "Y" where the two routes connect. Mrs. Burks' car struck a signboard containing names of towns on the route, then veered into a ravine and turned over one or more times.

State Patrolmen Clyde Vasconcellos, Jr., of this city and Merle Balke of Bluffs were called to the place of the accident. Coroner Hawks began an investigation and swore in a jury Wednesday morning, but did not fix a time for the inquest.

The badly damaged car was towed to the Brummer garage in this city.

Mrs. Burks was employed as a machine operator at the J. Capps & Sons clothing factory and was a member of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. She was also affiliated with the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the Ladies of the Moose.

"The settlement, culminating a walkout of 252 of United's 460 flight engineers, was reached by officials of United, the AFL-CIO organization, and the Flight Engineers International Assn."

"At the same time a new contract between United and the FEIA was signed."

"Under terms of the contract United retained the right to employ pilot-qualified engineers and to establish crew requirements for future aircraft. At the same time the company extended job security to those who do not already have pilot qualifications by offering to give them pilot training, or, if they do not desire such training, to retain them as engineers."

Moose Open Drive For Xmas Toys

There will be five collection depots in Jacksonville for the deposit of toys for needy children in the Moose "Operation Santa Claus" campaign to make this a "Toyful" Christmas for all boys and girls in this area.

Collection containers will be placed at the following locations, according to Joe Eck, chairman of the local Moose civic affairs committee: Wooten's Gulf Service Station, N. Main and Walnut, Gilmore's Standard Station, S. Main and Michigan avenue, Sanders' Texaco Service, 400 E. Morton avenue, Stein's Shell Station, West State and N. Prairie, Mansfield D-X Station, S. Main and W. College.

The local Moose lodge is cooperating with all Moose lodges in the United States, Canada and Alaska in this "Toys For Needy Children" campaign. It is not necessary that all toys be new, but in the case of used toys, they must be undamaged and in workable and presentable condition. "We regret that time will not permit the repair or rejuvenation of used toys," said Chairman Eck, "so therefore the used toys donated must be in good condition."

The Moose committee will obtain a list of needy children in this area, whether they reside in their own homes, in orphanages or hospitals, from local welfare agencies and officials. Then on Christmas Eve, the Moose will deliver all of the toys collected. All residents of the city are urged to help make this campaign a success.

Some Things Wife Would Like To Tell Husband—But Doesn't

By LORA LEE WATSON
Minneapolis Tribune Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—“Husbands,” someone has said, “are a sorry lot.” Millions of wives agree—at least part of the time.

In an effort to find out in what ways the American male falls short of being the ideal husband, we have undertaken an informal poll of wives in Minneapolis. Results are guaranteed to be highly unscientific, somewhat biased and statistically questionable.

This question was asked wives in a number of offices, bridge clubs, neighborhood groups, mothers’ organizations, auxiliaries and at large:

What things would you like to say to your husband—but don’t dare?

First, and almost unanimous, reaction of wives questioned was that there’s nothing they don’t “dare” say to their husbands. But all wives hastily agreed that there are areas of conversation into which they prefer not to venture for one reason or another.

We got hundreds of answers, but many of them are variations of the same themes. After sorting, combining and tabulating, we found the questions a composite wife would like to ask a composite husband:

Dear husband:

Why are you always in the kitchen before dinner, making suggestions and nuzzling lovingly in my neck while I’m trying to cook—and why are you never there after dinner when there are dishes to be washed?

When you go into a grocery store, could you, just once, stick to the list and skip the impulse buying which throws our budget into reverse?

Why do you immediately go into a slow boil whenever my relatives, especially my mother, are mentioned? and why, conversely, do you sprout a large chip on each shoulder if I dare make the faintest criticism of your relatives?

How about that promise you made before we were married to do half the housework if I kept my job?

Why do you insistently cling to your clichés that “you can’t fly on one wing” and “another little drink wouldn’t do us any harm” when bitter experiences have proved that no more than one “wing” you fly too high and bounce too hard? (And who has to hold your head, and make your apologies and try to explain to the kids next day what’s wrong with daddy?)

Must every movie, TV show and sporting event—either live or televised—be an audience participation performance when you’re there? Are you completely impervious to the glares you get when your loud laugh drowns out dialogue or when you mutter advice and comment to the players or actors?

Why does any discussion of religion embarrass you?

Must you always look like a tramp over the weekends? You were a regular twinkie-toes in your courting days, so why do you now dislike dancing and act like an old bear if I suggest it?

Why is money, just plain money, such an incendiary topic in our house? Do you know of anybody who keeps a household going without it? And where am I supposed to get it if not from you?

How do you manage to dream up so many excuses for postponing (sometimes forever!) such chores as cleaning the basement and garage, doing the yard work and hauling rubbish to the dump?

Since it is you, old friend, who must take credit for every dent that’s ever been put in our car, and you, old chum, who have received the only traffic tickets ever issued against it—how can you, with a straight face, keep telling me how to drive a car?

(Now, having asked you these soul-searching questions, I ask myself one: with all his faults, how come I love him still? Because, you know, I really do!)

With Love,
Your Wife

GOP STRATEGY

The calmness with which Leonard Hall, Republican national chairman, views the future suggests strongly that he and some of his key party associates have a plan respecting the 1956 presidential race.

If there were no well-conceived plan, the Republican leaders would be visibly troubled at the prospect President Eisenhower might not make known his 1956 intentions until late February or March.

It is acknowledged that in these days of wide television coverage a candidate can be given national stature in an amazingly short time. Nevertheless, this process involves inevitable risk, and politicians seldom hold their calm in the face of such uncertainty.

Thus we may fairly deduce that Hall and others see the campaign of 1956 in definite outlines.

Naturally their first hope is that Mr. Eisenhower himself will be the GOP candidate again. They have made this abundantly clear in public utterance.

If he decides not to run, most reliable accounts hint that the second phase of the plan is to try to prevail upon Chief Justice Earl Warren to head the ticket. There is even talk of drafting Warren against his will and confronting him with the accomplished fact.

Warren of course could kill even this move if he said flatly he would not run if nominated. That could take the top GOP planners to what reports indicate may be their third course: pushing Vice President Nixon.

If the time were March and the vice president were given the backing of Hall and many elements of the Republican organization, he might be very hard to beat.

Obviously Nixon would not draw anything like full support from the Eisenhower wing of his party. But he might detach just enough strength from that wing to render it incapable of blocking him. And it seems likely that many right wingers would accept him, though he might not be their top choice.

All this is speculation, albeit guesswork with considerable foundation. If this three-stage program is an accurate estimate of high echelon GOP thinking, then what Hall and his associates are trying to devise is a system by which the 1956 nominating process can be kept under firm control at all times.

If their highest hopes are realized, they believe they will get a candidate who is eminently electable. If only their lesser hopes are fulfilled, they are evidently convinced that they can maximize their ballot prospects by at any rate avoiding a bitter intraparty struggle for the nomination.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—One of the best how-to-do-it-yourself books is at hand—and I don't know which hand to throw it from.

It destroys my whole sense of perspective.

The title is "How to Gain an Extra Hour Every Day."

The reason I don't dare throw it from either hand is that just by looking at it my whole life has changed. I started to throw this book away with the left hand, and now I've determined to go back to the starboard muscle. With it I can hurl further. But I am confused. Thereby I've gained a minute—and, frankly, I don't know how to invest it.

I hate to have this minute go astray in the long history of time. But I really don't know what else to do with it.

That's my trouble. Most of the people I know don't find enough time to do half the things on their minds. I find I have more than double the time on my hands to do the things on my mind. Except for one thing, that is—and that's to loaf.

I always run out of losing time, which to me is thinking-time, growing-up-time, getting-away-from-it-all, getting-back-to-you-whomever-you-are-time.

Naturally, when I think about serious problems like these I'm not really losing time. I'm ordinarily just getting drowsy, as I lean tiredly against my tall friendly Irish wolfhound and wave hello to guests coming across the meek drawbridge of my existence.

This volume about "How to Gain an Extra Hour Every Day" is written by Ray Josephs, a triple threat career man—author, public relations specialist and homemaker, here and in South America.

This book opens a new world to me, and I want to get out of it. But it fascinates me and gives me a sense of guilt.

On its cover the book says "Everyone needs more time for the things he really wants to do."

It offers 243 time saving techniques, developed by "scores of America's best-known, busiest people."

It tells, for example, how "Sam Goldwyn breaks up those long time-wasting luncheons by discussing business before eating." It doesn't go into the question of who is able to eat when the discussion is over.

The book also tells how President Eisenhower "has learned to bathe, shave, and dress in 20 minutes or less—almost 10 to 15 fewer than most men—by using a routine developed over his many years as a military man."

Former President Harry Truman shares with General Eisenhower this talent of being a fast morning dresser.

But I like Josephs' description of how the former British Prime Minister safeguards his hours against waste.

"Sir Winston Churchill," he points out, "does half his day's work in bed; gets added rest while accomplishing twice as much in half the previous, constantly interrupted office time."

This is the soundest of all Mr. Josephs' 243 different ways to save time. The gamble is great but the possible reward is fascinating.

Who wouldn't dare the possibility of unemployment if by staying in bed half of every day a fellow might hope to become Prime Minister of England?

The problem of how to gain an extra hour every day wouldn't seem so bad if a man could spend it in bed admiring other people.

SO THEY SAY

The Chinese people seem to be satisfied with their government. It is honest and responsible as compared with the . . . Chiang . . . regime. The price may be slow destruction of the individual. But if this is true the Chinese do not seem to be aware of it.

—Gerald Bailey of Britain after a 25-day tour of Red China with a Quaker delegation.

He (President Eisenhower) didn't say yes and he didn't say no. I think he will (run) if he feels he's able.

—GOP Chairman Leonard Hall after political conference with the President.

We (National Farmers Union) want to change the administration farm policy, not the hired hands who administer it.

—Glenn Talbot, chairman of the NFU executive committee.

There is no justification by which any foreign country still has territory in India.

Steak With Mushrooms Still a Fancy Dish

STEAK WITH PLENTY of mushrooms to add their flavor and luxurious decorative touch is anyone's idea of a meal.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

In Southern Pennsylvania they grow and can nearly 2/3 of our national supply of mushrooms.

We went through that beautiful rolling country and talked good eating with several amiable growers and canners. Here is what we learned about mushroom sauces for broiled steak.

Mushroom Steak Sauce

One 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups liquid, made from mushroom liquid and water, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste.

Drain mushrooms, saving liquid. Add mushrooms to steak drippings in saucepan or skillet and brown. All flour, stir until browned. Stir in mushroom liquid, adding water to make 2 cups liquid. Add seasonings. Simmer, stirring until smooth. Pour over steak on platter.

Mushroom Garlic Butter

One-quarter cup butter, 1 small clove garlic, minced fine, 2 4-ounce cans sliced mushrooms, drained. Melt butter and continue to cook until brown. Add garlic and mushrooms. Continue to heat until mushrooms are hot. Serve over steak.

Mushroom Chili Sauce

One 4-ounce can button mushrooms, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, liquid drained from mushrooms, 1/2 cup chili sauce.

Saute drained mushrooms in butter and then remove them and set aside. Blend flour, salt and pepper into butter. Add, slowly, milk and mushroom liquid. When smooth and boiling, add chili sauce and sauteed mushrooms. Serve hot on steak or meat loaf.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled steak, mushroom garlic sauce, French fried potatoes, creamed spinach, French bread, butter or margarine, green salad, apple pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Hollywood's bridegroom of the year is handsome Rock Hudson, who has proven that movie marriages can be private.

This is heresy to the Hollywood publicity mill. The lives of the stars, particularly one so popular with the younger set as Rock, are supposed to be public property. These players are required to divulge everything, from what they eat on their corn flakes in the morning to whether they sleep in the raw.

While not being as defiant about it as Marlon Brando, Rock has been generally rebellious against the system. He will play ball up to a certain point, but draws the line when his privacy is involved.

The success of his methods was proven Nov. 9. That was his wedding date. No one suspected he was going to get married, although he had decided last March to wed pretty Phyllis Gates, secretary in his agent's office.

"We couldn't get married then," he related, "because I had to start a new job. After that, I went into 'Giant.' That's what delayed us so long."

He said that he and Phyllis decided on a Monday that they would get married in two days. The operation was carried out in complete secrecy. They applied for the license under his legal name Roy Fitzgerald. No one divulged his identity.

After the wedding was over, the necessary news sources were called, to keep peace with the studio. Then the pair vanished on a honeymoon.

Now they're back in Rock's small home above the Sunset Strip, and he reports that the fans have even bothered him there.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Science Still Unable to Discover Cure for Cold

"We have a fellow in our neighborhood," writes L. M., "who, whenever he gets a cold, gives it to everyone he comes near, even those who otherwise seldom have a cold. Not only that, but his colds are extra hard to get rid of. Is there something that can be done to stop him giving germs to others?"

The young man referred to in the letter seems to be rather thoughtless. There are a lot of things we still don't know about the common cold, but it should be clear to everyone that most colds are contagious and spread from person to person with considerable ease.

THERE IS, INDEED, a little doubt that if a person who felt he or she was coming down with a cold went home and to bed immediately, others would be less likely to catch it. Certainly sneezing and coughing by someone in the early stages of a cold places others in considerable risk of catching the same thing.

Since it is too much to expect that everyone will be thoughtful about exposing others, about all that we can do is stay as far away as we can from the victim of a cold, particularly at first and to avoid as much as possible public places such as theaters, streetcars, buses and the like, during the season when colds are at their height. This too is not always easy!

THERE ARE FEW DISORDERS which have been studied as much as the common cold—and few on which we know less about prevention and treatment. Resistance to the common cold is slight in most people and is not lasting. Many persons get several colds a year. Furthermore, a single cause has not been discovered—perhaps because there is no single cause but rather several.

Although the weight of suspicion lies on the virus family, several viruses have been found in epidemics of colds and vaccine treatments or other methods of building permanent resistance have so far proved of little value. These discouraging statements do not mean that the common cold will never be conquered but only that so far, even with modern methods and knowledge, there is no good practical answer.

WHAT ABOUT treatment? Each one of us, whether we have a medical degree or not, probably has a favorite treatment. This fact surely means that there is no single method for all people which is always successful. Until something better is found, I suppose people will continue to spend millions of dollars each year for nose drops, vitamin, drugs of many varieties, and all sorts of other remedies.

In actual practice the best treatment for a cold remains rest in bed, begun at the sign of the first symptoms and continued for several days. Such simple remedies as aspirin, or steam to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, may make one feel better but have doubtful value in shortening the course of a cold. However, since many of us can work with a cold, even though miserable, I presume that only a few will shorten their discomfort from this pesky disorder by bed rest for a long enough length of time.

One-Eye Is Gone, Family Starting to Live Again

The Smiths have gotten rid of their TV set. And they claim they wouldn't have it back if the rabbit ears were gold, tipped with diamonds. They have recaptured a way of living that TV drowned out in loud commercials, blaring music and stale jokes.

The drastic decision that their TV set was expendable came after Mr. and Mrs. Smith sat down one night and confronted all the changes it had brought into their home.

Nobody listened to their collection of beautiful records any more. Evenings of games and family fun had disappeared as parents and children sat evening after evening before the one-eyed monster.

Reading for pleasure was a thing of the past. The printed word casts its spell in peaceful quiet and there is no peace or quiet in a home where a TV set blares forth program after program.

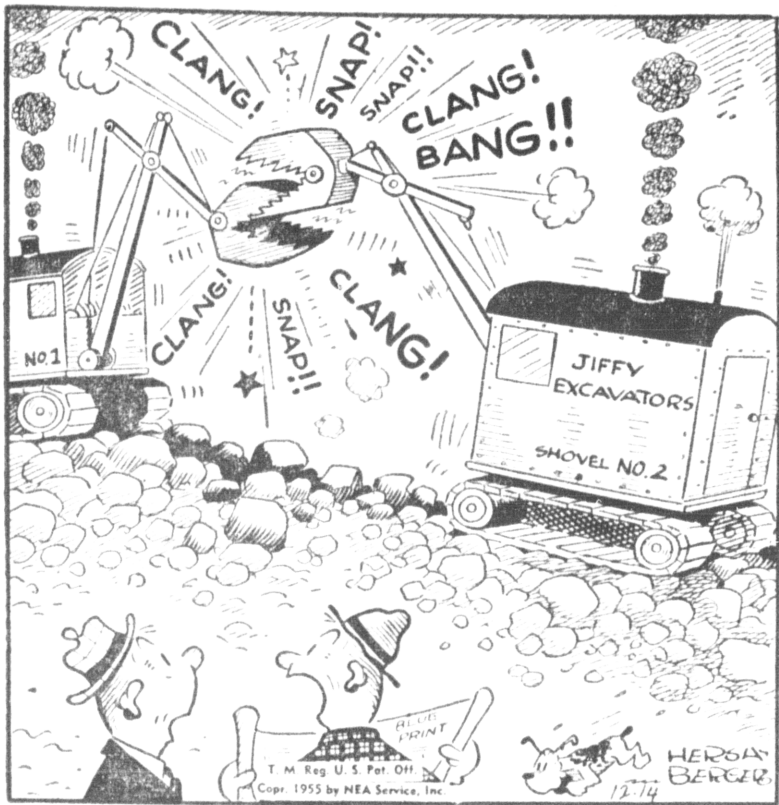

THERE ARE FEW PROGRAMS TO REGRET Even dinner table conversation was affected. Either the family watched some member's "favorite" program while they ate or hurried through dinner so as to get to their easy chairs in time for a half-hour play or 30 minutes of watching a comedian earn his weekly fortune.

Few plans were made for the family to take advantage of the plays, lectures, etc., that were available. It was so much easier to sit home and watch TV.

"About all that we and our children are getting out of our TV time is what the TV set has to offer. And that is a mighty slim return," Mrs. Smith decided.

And so the stout-hearted Smiths made their decision. The TV set had to go.

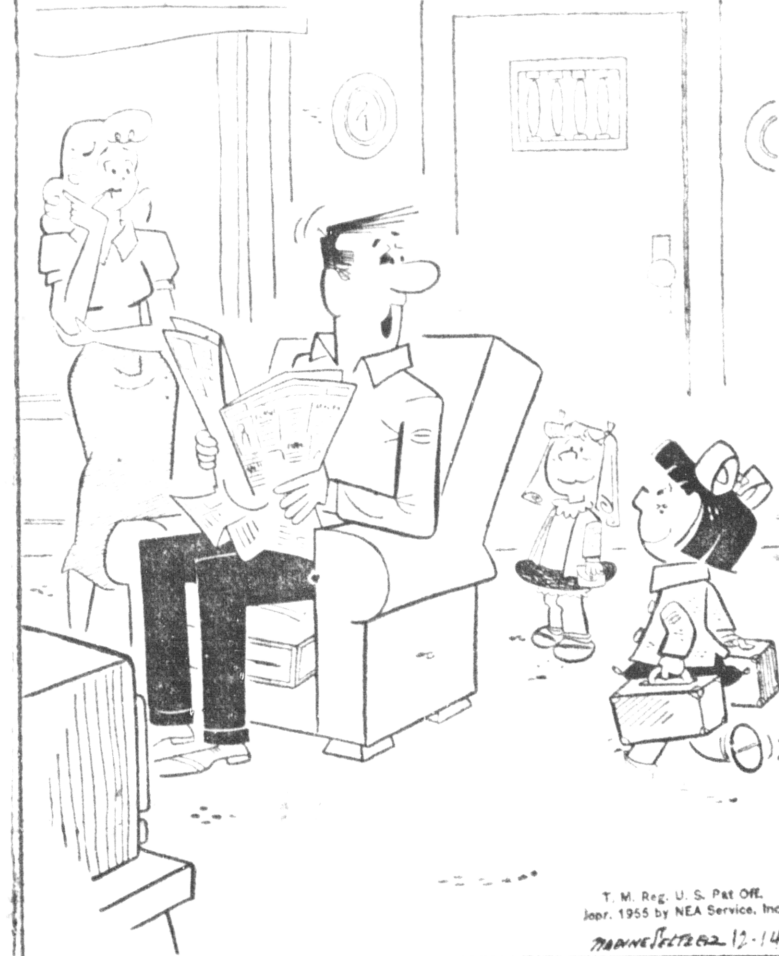

They say they occasionally miss something good they would have enjoyed. But the time they have gained for more enjoyable family living by being freed from TV watching has more than made up for the occasional throw-away programs they have missed.

GREAT Circle

BY ROBERT CARSE

THE STORY: Capt. Jered Naish, a merchant seaman who has become master of the whaler Obis, is carrying on with a motley crew and brutal officers. A stowaway, Albemarle Morrow, has been found aboard. Morrow, formerly an enlisted of seamen for whalers, is signed on as a member of the Obis' crew.

sharp. They were about four feet long, oval or heart-shaped, and with the poles attached they reached a good 10 feet. Light manila warps were also spliced onto them so that they could be pulled back and struck again into a whale's flank.

Toward dusk, the wind dropped. The sea lay softly undulant and the sails hung slack in the gear. "A good time for it," he said to Mr. Cupp. "Put the boats in the water. Give the greenies a real brisk row."

"A prime idea," Mr. Cupp said. There was the rap of knuckles on facial bone, the cracking slap of rope ends against flesh and yells of fright before the boats were launched. But Jered Naish no longer minded that. He persisted in the resolve that for the present it had to be. He stood on the quarter deck with his long-glass and followed the action of the boats.

Naish fingered a harpoon blade after it was finished. It was as sharp as the malleable iron could be made. The opposite edge of the weapon was flat, the shaft about 30 inches long. Oliphant took a rough oak pole from a pile at his feet and sent it home into the socket. That was secured with a small wooden peg which went through both shaft and pole and kept the pivot head in place.

"But one that can't be avoided," Naish said sharply. "Mister, the moon and two stars are apparent. Go fetch the instruments, the slate and my watch. If you're to be a navigator, you must work at it."

Larned had lance shafts on the anvil now and Naish stood close to inspect them. The lance shafts were made of the same metal as the harpoons, the points of excellent steel and surpassingly sharp. They were about four feet long, oval or heart-shaped, and with the poles attached they reached a good 10 feet. Light manila warps were also spliced onto them so that they could be pulled back and struck again into a whale's flank.

bunk and gazed at the dagger-rear of Phoebe that he had hung on the forward bulkhead. So softly that the mates could not hear, he spoke her name. Then he rose and went over and caressed the picture. Instead of the rather stiff portrait he saw Phoebe as she had been during the last afternoon with him on the beach. Other images came to cluster his mind. He danced a lancers with her at Hamilton Hall. They rode a sleigh together in the winter, and the horse's hooves sent clots of snow in a rapid tattoo against the splash-board.

Naish could accept no more of memory. He slipped into a pair of hemp slippers and as he passed through the main cabin the mates looked up at him in silence. That was the way he liked it, he thought. No master could be close to his mates; discipline disappeared when he did. He'd heard tell of captains who from the beginning of a voyage to the end spoke only with their officers about ship's business. A little too stiff, that, yet a good rule to follow.

THE greenies of the watch hunkered along the 'midships bulkhead. They leaned down to watch the ardent sweep of the wash along the hull. Only one man, Albemarle Morrow, sensed his presence and turned.

"Sir, would you mind a question?" "Not that I know now," Naish said.

"Well, sir, when we were out in the boat this afternoon, Mr. Finnie in the midst of his vexation—allowed that we would never make sailormen. I'm minded, Captain, of an old saying heard on the Canawl: A feller aboard ship without a knife is like a bull without a tail. Would it somehow be possible for us to buy knives and other gear?"

"Tomorrow's Sunday," Naish said. "I'll have the steward open the slops chest and you can buy what you need. Then if there's volunteers enough among you, I'll take out a boat to sail."

DETROIT FINDS IT HARD TO GET ALONG WITHOUT DAILIES

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit is trying to get along without its three regular daily newspapers, but it isn't easy.

The stereotypers' strike that has paralyzed the presses of the Detroit News, the Detroit Times and the Detroit Free Press ended its second week today.

Most people have turned to stepped-up radio and television newscasts, or to four or eight-page local emergency papers.

The struck newspapers have continued collecting local news through a jointly operated hotel newsroom. They provide it to radio and television stations without cost.

Swamped by a windfall of local advertising, the stations have canceled some of their national programs for local shows punctuated with commercials.

Retail stores, without newspaper advertising, report Christmas business falling short of anticipated record levels.

Advertisers are turning to other media. Neighborhood weeklies have expanded. A foreign language newspaper switched to English pages. A strike-born union newspaper and "throwaway" shopping guides have appeared. Out-of-town newspapers and all kinds of magazines sell faster than usual.

The effect of the strike on retail trade since Dec. 1 is difficult to measure. Some stores say sales still are running ahead of last year. But most say they were anticipating even higher increases over 1954. Other stores say sales are off considerably as compared with a year ago.

Federal and state mediators reported Tuesday night at the end of a 2½-hour bargaining sessions tentative agreement had been reached on all points except wages.

Publishers' representatives made a wage offer and the union agreed to consider it.

Under their old contract which expired at midnight Nov. 30, stereotypers got $3.08 an hour for a 37½-hour day work week and $3.33 an hour for a 35-hour night week.

Recommend Death For Crump, Killer Of Plant Guard

CHICAGO (AP)—The death penalty has been recommended for Paul Crump, 25, convicted for the second time Tuesday night of killing a plant guard.

No date for sentencing Crump, a Negro, was set. A Criminal Courts jury of seven men and five women returned the verdict.

Crump has been sentenced to death previously on his original conviction with three others June 19, 1953. Crump was accused of slaying guard Theodore P. Zukowski during a $22,500 robbery at the Libby McNeil & Libby plant in March 1953. The other three men were sentenced to 199 years imprisonment.

The Illinois Supreme Court last March ordered a new trial for Crump saying the evidence against him was "far from conclusive." Crump testified he was in the Libby plant at the time but did not take part in the robbery.

Scout Troop 106 Has Xmas Party

The annual Christmas party for Boy Scout Troop 106, sponsored by the Brooklyn church, for scouts and parents was held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday evening, Dec. 8 at the church.

Thirty-four were present for the party held in the beautifully decorated basement. Devotions were handled by Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Johnson. Rev. Tucker opened the meeting with prayer after the scouts conducted their opening ceremony.

William Boston, chairman of the unit committee, reviewed the accomplishments of the past year's program. Earl Jones presented awards to the troop as a whole. Scoutmaster Wilbur Stafford then read a letter of thanks from the fire department for the troop's help in the muscular dystrophy drive.

After a report by the treasurer, James Blakeman, a discussion was held regarding finances. James Blakeman presented the procedure for rechartering the troop. A committee for 1956 was named.

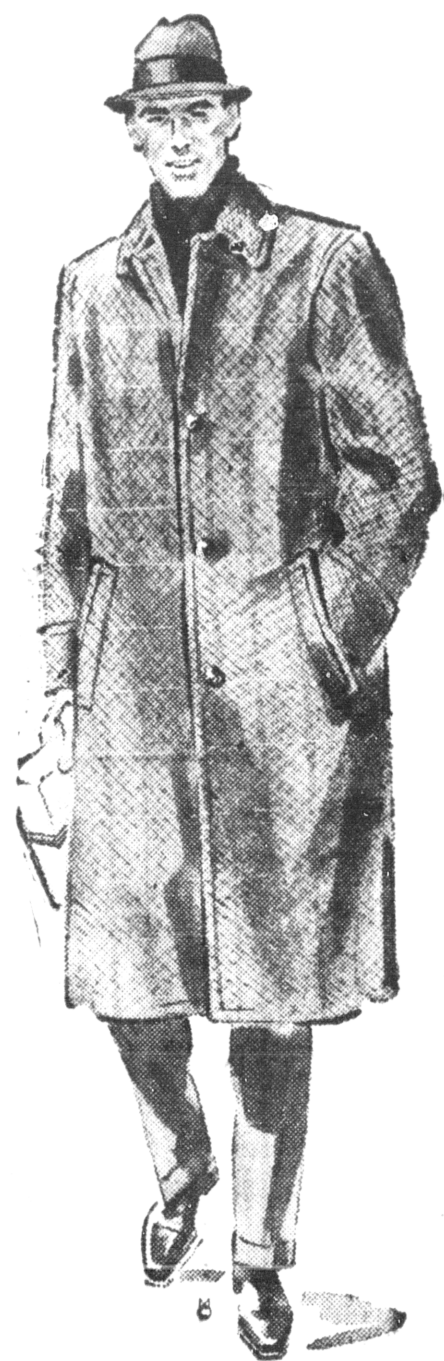

Mrs. George Ashby conducted the gift exchange. After the serving of hot cocoa and doughnuts the meeting adjourned.

Chrysler's wonderfully convenient Pushbutton drive is on the left side where no one but the driver can reach it.

Push this button and all other cars seem outdated!

15 minutes in the new "PowerStyle" Chrysler can change a lifetime of buying habits!

Push that "D" button and step on the gas. You're off like a shot. Now you're eating up the ribbon of road in front of you. A curve comes up and bends around behind. What was a hill has vanished. The scenery itself must be moving, not you!

What accounts for this magic? A whole new series of Chrysler engineering developments. Pushbutton Powerlite transmission... a bigger airplane-type V-8 engine, more powerful than anything in its price class... full-time Power-Pilot Steering... and newly designed PowerSmooth Brakes that bring you to the world's safest, smoothest straight line stops.

Chrysler, with its low center of gravity, rivals the cornering ability of a racing car.

All this you see reflected in Chrysler's "PowerStyle" lines... the new Forward Look... the new look of power.

If you're now driving one of the other two major cars in Chrysler's price class, come in and make a direct comparison. Just see if Chrysler doesn't make everything else seem outdated!

Riggston Church WSCS Has Xmas Potluck Party

The annual Christmas party of the Riggston church and meeting of the church WSCS was held Thursday, Dec. 8, in the social rooms of the church which had been attractively decorated for the occasion.

At noon a delicious potluck luncheon was served to a large gathering of members and guests. Mrs. Margaret Green, Mrs. Edith Kaltschnee, Mrs. Emma Orris and Mrs. Susie Worrell were hostesses.

At 2 o'clock the president, Mrs. Margaret Green called the meeting to order with prayer. Mrs. Edith Kaltschnee read the Christmas story from the book of Luke and Mrs. Maye McCullough offered prayer. Carols were then sung by the group.

Mrs. Louise Montgomery presented a very interesting program for the afternoon which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Irene McCullough and Mrs. Marjorie Allan sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Earle Black, as part of Mrs. Montgomery's program.

At the close of the meeting a gift exchange was held. The January meeting will be held with Mrs. Mac Green and Mrs. Ella Shafer.

Santa Claus Doing Rushing Business Throughout State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Santa Claus is doing a rushing business in Illinois this year. Practically all cities reporting in an Associated Press survey expect retail sales to be up and in many cases they expect all-time records. Prices in most cases appear to be about the same as last year and buyers in most areas seemed to be in a fairly free spending mood. As one Freeport department store manager put it: "Any merchant who doesn't do 10 per cent more business this year should hide his head in shame. Shoppers are willing to spend more. They are buying quality merchandise."

Here is a report by cities: East St. Louis—Sales expected to be 10 to 12 per cent higher. Most prices are the same or a little lower. Prices of handman's tools and gadgets are down. Stores participated in a three-day plan of free transportation to encourage shopping the first week of December.

Rock Island—Sales expected to hit all-time record. Cash purchases particularly are heavier. Prices about the same or a little lower. Freeport—Sales expected to be up 3 to 10 per cent. Luxury gifts and higher quality merchandise are selling well. The merchants will have a "men only" shopping night Dec. 14, with no women allowed in the stores except clerks. Free gift wrapping will aid the male shopper.

Kankakee—Sales expected to equal last year's all-time record. Prices are about the same, although merchants are advertising and selling more quality merchandise. Shoppers are in fairly free spending mood. There is a Santa Town, USA, in front of the court house. Children can enter the miniature houses and get free gifts from merchants, or ride on a miniature train. Last year between 25,000 and 30,000 persons visited the village.

Quincy—Sales running 10 to 15 per cent higher. Prices mostly are somewhat lower. Farmers of the area appear to be buying with more caution, however.

Mattoon—Sales are expected to be an all-time high. People "are spending more money than ever before," the Chamber of Commerce reported. It is believed that a change from Saturday night to Friday night and Monday night shopping has helped. A 1½ million dollar hail storm which hit Mattoon Nov. 15 seems to have helped, too. Most policy holders got cash settlements for damage claims. They appear to be spending at least part of it for Christmas.

Alton—Sales might exceed the 1½ million dollar sales of last December if the merchants get a good break on the weather from now on. Merchants say the higher Illinois sales tax and the city sales cuts sales somewhat in Alton, since shoppers can drive across the Mississippi River to St. Louis and escape the tax. Buyers appear to be somewhat cautious and are seeking lower prices.

Canton—Sales are expected to be up 5 per cent. Prices are slightly higher.

Waukegan—Sales expected to hit a new record of 10 million dollars and are running 5 to 10 per cent higher than last year. Prices are somewhat higher. One toy wholesaler said people are buying lots of toys but don't seem to be buying as expensive toys as last year. A giant rubber balloon caricature parade was held Dec. 3. About 16,000 attended.

CHICAGO—Retail sales expected to be up 5 to 10 per cent. Shoppers are in a fairly free spending mood and prices are about the same overall. Most stores are somewhat short of help.

Community Club Of Patterson To Meet Friday

PATTERSON—Friday evening, Dec. 16, is the date of the Patterson Community Club meeting. To be held in the new gymnasium at the Patterson grade school. Each family attending is to bring homemade candy for refreshment. The entertainment is to be furnished by the school children, in charge of the teachers. Other arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Gertrude Moore, Mrs. Guy Sorrell, Mrs. V. L. Hubbard, Mrs. Nona Owsen and Mrs. Wilson Smith.

Party December 19 The Royal Neighbor Christmas party will be held at the school house Monday evening, Dec. 19, with potluck supper at 6:30, followed by games, the annual gift exchange, and the revealing of the secret pals for the past year. New names will be drawn for secret pals and also names for the hostesses for each month of the coming year.

Mrs. Grace Brown and Mrs. Mildred Dawdy will have charge of arrangements. Mrs. Lida Dawdy, Mrs. Minnie Swedman and Mrs. Mildred Ginter will be appointed to committee at the last meeting to have charge of the drawing of the names. Any member unable to attend who wishes to have her name included for secret pal or for serving next year will please contact the committee of the hostesses, Nona Owsen.

To Meet Tuesday The Hop-a-Neighbor Club will have its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Smith, west of White Hall, Tuesday, Dec. 19. A potluck dinner will be held at the noon hour followed by a business session, which will include the annual election of officers.

The Christmas gift exchange will follow, and the secret pals of the past year will be revealed, and new names will be drawn for the coming year. Each member will bring some homemade candy.

A Christmas of musical numbers and recitations will be presented at the Wilmington Baptist church Wednesday evening, Dec. 21 at 7:30 by members of the different Sunday school classes. Everyone is invited to attend.

ON THE DOUBLE CHARLOTTE, N. C. (P)—Former Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina was stopped by a similarly looking man as the former public official dashed into the airport terminal between flights here. "Sure glad to meet you," said A. D. Lajoie, "I've been mistaken for you 100 times." "Well," replied Byrnes, "I hope you've been behaving yourself."

CHICKEN ALARM BLUFFTON, Ohio (P)—A Bluffton doctor has invented an alarm clock for chickens. It's a thermostat that warns the farmer when the temperature in his brooder house drops too low or rises too high. Dr. B. W. Travis makes part of the gadget in his home workshop, farms out the rest to shops.

SANTA'S COMING! This "Visit from St. Nicholas" scene is fashioned around a police phone booth in the shopping center at Garden City, N.Y. It's the sixth consecutive year the Chamber of Commerce has erected the storybook house around the booth and suspended Santa and his reindeer in the air behind it. Evergreen trees and branches complete the Christmas scene.

Foundations Are Crowding Columns Of Newspapers

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Foundations are crowding the news columns these days—with both controversial and noncontroversial deeds.
And there's a growing tendency in Washington—both in Congress and in the Treasury Department—to take a close look at these tax-free funds.

The nation's largest—the Ford foundation—has made news of a noncontroversial nature twice of late. It is giving 500 million dollars to private education and to hospitals. This is the largest single act of philanthropy ever announced.

The foundation will take in an almost equal sum of money next month when it offers to the public Ford Motor stock, for the first time.

The stock offer, however, isn't to pay for this week's big give-away. The foundation makes its donations out of earnings from capital, not from the capital itself. The money the foundation gets from the sale of part of its Ford stock will be invested in other ways, and the yield from such investments will go into future donations.

The Ford Foundation's holdings are presently estimated to have a market value of between 1½ and 2 billion dollars. Prior to this week's gift total the fund had handed out 350 million dollars since its founding in 1936 by gifts of stock in the motor company by Henry Ford I.

The foundation is also in the news just now in a controversial matter, concerning some of the activities of one of its beneficiaries, the Fund for the Republic, which are attacked from several quarters.

While the Ford Foundation is the nation's largest tax-free fund, it has lots of company. If you count in churches, farm co-operatives and the like there are more than 100,000 tax free groups in the country.

Some 32,000 of these are in the category of foundation, fund, or association—exempted from taxation on the general ground that they serve a public rather than a private purpose. And about 7,000 of these are foundations set up by wealthy men or corporations to handle their philanthropies.

Most of these are conceded to serve a public purpose. But some congressmen have been charging that some foundations or funds meddle too much in politics to deserve a tax-free status.

Congress is expected to be asked for a law which would open to public inspection the applications for tax exemption filed by foundations. The idea is that the ones solely serving the public interest wouldn't mind—many of them report publicly now.

But some groups don't disclose how they raise funds or how they spend them, and Washington feels that many of these would give up their tax-free status rather than let the public in on their operations.

Wall Street notes today that the Ford gifts to the colleges and universities will be in the form of endowments from which the yield will be used for 10 years—after that the schools get the principal.
College endowment funds have played an increasing part in the stock market since the end of the war.

Harvard University, which gets 4½ million dollars from Ford, has the largest endowment fund. Seven years ago it had a market value of 206 million dollars. Now (not counting the new gift) its market value is put at 442 million—with 73 per cent of that seven-year gain realized by increase in market values.

Harvard's income from investments last year came to 13½ million dollars. But Harvard says its expenses, plus the inroads of inflation, have gone up even faster and it's still poor and right thankful for this week's gift from the foundation the tin lizzie started.

WRONG SUIT

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police are keeping a grey suit in storage, tagged with a note: "Awaiting an owner."

James A. Barnes told the officers he found the suit, complete with white shirt and tie, in a box behind his house.

He doesn't want it. Presumably, no one in the police station wants it, either.

It is the kind used by undertakers for burial purposes.

Birthday Club At Franklin To Appear On T-V

FRANKLIN—Mr. and Mrs. Allen
Eboey and Mrs. Loretta Seymour entertained the Birthday Club Sunday night, Dec. 11, at the American and their husbands. Mrs. Mary

Mrs. Edith Rees, secretary and

On Dec. 29 the club will appear on
